Nicholas Jay Myers

Discover how the largest elementary school district in Illinois became a flourishing professional learning community. You'll walk through each step of the PLC journey to learn how the district approached the most vital components of a successful PLC, such as building shared knowledge, forming collaborative teams, and setting priorities. Reduce your own trial and error by using their lessons learned as a road map toward long-lasting change.

Benefits

- Follow along closely as District 54 utilizes common formative assessment, establishes systematic intervention and enrichment, administers systemic change, considers effective practices, and more.
- Read educators' firsthand accounts of the PLC process.
- Find replicas of the decision-making and priority-setting documents District 54 used to find PLC success.

“Myers shares his experiences with a beautiful blend of theory and practice. With clear, concise, and coherent examples, Myers has created a powerful resource for anyone interested in successfully implementing PLC at Work™ in their schools.”

—Thomas W. Many, PLC at Work™ associate
